

STATEN ISLAND REAL-TIME NEWS

Free admission for educators to Staten Island Museum

Comment

Updated on June 17, 2017 at 10:23 AM

Posted on June 17, 2017 at 10:10 AM

The Staten Island Museum is offering all teachers, principals, assistant principals, and parent coordinators free admission to the Museum every weekday from until September 15. (Staten Island Advance Photo)

5
shares

BY THOMAS CHECCHI

checchi@siadvance.com

STATEN ISLAND, N.Y. -- With the school year coming to a close across the borough, educators will have an opportunity to hone their cultural skills for free during the break at the Staten Island Museum.

The Museum is offering all teachers, principals, assistant principals, and parent coordinators free admission to the Museum every weekday from until September 15.

Eligible educators can register online through the Museum's website or in person at the Staten Island Museum at the Snug Harbor Cultural Center and Botanical Garden in Livingston.

When visiting the Museum throughout the summer, bring school ID, pay stub, or school letterhead to enter the Museum's current exhibitions free of charge. The pass is valid only for the registered educator and cannot be transferred.

"We had over 300 education professionals sign up last year and we want to continue to grow that partnership," said Diane Matyas, Staten Island Museum VP of Programs & Exhibitions. "Our goal remains to get to know the schools and the educators in our community so that we can better serve their students and expand in our role as the gateway to culture and the museum experience. We are grateful for the hard work that they do and any way we can give back - we are honored to."

Registration on or use of this site constitutes acceptance of our User Agreement and Privacy Policy © 2017 SILive.com. All rights reserved (About Us).

The material on this site may not be reproduced, distributed, transmitted, cached or otherwise used, except with the prior written permission of SILive.com.

Community Rules apply to all content you upload or otherwise submit to this site.

Ad Choices