Ingrid Michaelson makes Broadway debut and supports Staten Island Museum

Tickets and a meet and greet being auctioned off – bidding ends July 26!

(Staten Island, NY – July 13, 2017) Meet Ingrid Michaelson and get 2 orchestra seat tickets to her Broadway debut in Natasha, Pierre & The Great Comet of 1812 on Thursday, August 10, 2017 at 7PM.

Donated by Natasha, Pierre & The Great Comet of 1812, tickets and a meet and greet with Ingrid are being auctioned off through CharityBuzz.com to benefit the Staten Island Museum. The winners are able to bring something small to be signed and take photographs with Ingrid after the show. Bidding is now open and closes on Wednesday, July 26.

This summer, multi-platinum recording artist Ingrid Michaelson makes her Broadway debut in The Great Comet, which features a thrilling mix of rock, pop, soul, electronic dance music and classic Broadway. Inspired by a 70-page slice of War and Peace, the immersive staging of this unforgettable epic story brings audiences just inches from the performers as they light up Broadway in an experience like no other.

Ms. Michaelson has been a long-time friend of the Staten Island Museum and major contributor to its success. She helped raise funds for the Elizabeth Egbert Gallery, named in memory of her mother, and was a 2016 recipient of the Leng & Davis Award for her dedication and significant support of the Museum.
